

2022 STATEMENT ON MODERN SLAVERY

Modern slavery is defined by the UK government as the recruitment, movement, harbouring or receiving of children, women or men through the use of force, coercion, abuse of vulnerability, deception or other means for the purpose of exploitation.

Ontic Engineering & Manufacturing UK Limited is a values-based organisation, dedicated to being the world's leading provider of aviation support and aftermarket services with the overarching objective to deliver exceptional, long-term, sustainable value for all our stakeholders. We are committed to improving our practices to combat slavery and human trafficking.

OUR BUSINESS AND SUPPLY CHAINS

Ontic is a leading provider of high-quality equipment and cost-effective solutions for the support of maturing and legacy aerospace platforms with locations in the USA, Europe and Asia.

Currently, Ontic and its affiliated companies operate at seven locations on three continents with over 1000 employees worldwide.

Each of our businesses has dedicated teams responsible for sourcing and managing supplier relationships for their respective business.

Our supply chain consists of:

- The businesses who provide products to Ontic; and
- The businesses who provide services to Ontic, for example utility providers, IT platform providers, cleaning companies and specialist consultants.

We have in place systems to:

- Identify and assess potential risk areas in our supply chains;
- Mitigate the risk of slavery and human trafficking occurring in our supply chains;
- Monitor potential risk areas in our supply chains; and
- Protect whistle blowers.

OUR POLICIES

Ontic's commitment to ensuring that modern slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in our businesses or supply chains is embodied in our suite of ethical conduct policies (most notably our Anti-Slavery and Human Trafficking Policy (GP-LEG-10)). We recognise the importance of human rights and support the principles set forth in the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights and we are committed to treating people according to merit and contribution, refraining from coercion and never deliberately causing harm to anyone.

OUR EFFORTS TO IDENTIFY MODERN SLAVERY IN OUR BUSINESSES AND SUPPLY CHAINS

Ontic conducts due diligence on each of our suppliers, contractors and service providers pursuant to our local processes established pursuant to our Third Party Vetting Policy (GP-LEG-18) and other standard vendor management reviews. This due diligence results in a detailed understanding of our business partners, their businesses and what products or services they provide to Ontic businesses.

As a supplier of products, we recognise that our biggest exposure to the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking concerns the suppliers further up our supply chain. Pursuant to our Third Party Vetting Policy we have local processes for assessing Ontic's business partners through due diligence. Depending on the relative risk identified as associated with a third party (determined using criteria such as country, proposed relationship etc.), we undertake standard or enhanced due diligence on all third parties, including suppliers, contractors and service providers. We also expect our business partners to adopt appropriate measures to combat modern slavery and human trafficking.

Regular due diligence checks are carried out on our existing business partners to ensure they still meet our standards.

THE EFFECTIVENESS OF OUR EFFORTS

To date, we believe Ontic has been highly effective in preventing modern slavery and human trafficking from existing in our businesses and in avoiding undesirable business partners.

It is clear to our business partners that our expectations encompass not only their businesses but their supply chains as well. Given that Ontic has maintained, in general, long-term relationships with key suppliers, contractors and consultants and our expectations for ethical business practices have been a constant throughout those relationships, we expect full cooperation from our supply chains if the results of our assessments determine that enhancements to our internal controls are desirable.

We use the following key performance indicators (KPIs) to measure how effective we have been (not every KPI is used in each location) to ensure that slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in any part of our business or supply chains:

- Vetting procedures. The number or percentage of suppliers and sub-contractors that have been vetted for ethical labour practices with any concerns investigated by the legal department.
- Supplier screening. The number and type of issues identified on screening suppliers and sub-contractors.
- Whistleblowing. The number of reported breaches in the past year.
- Remedial action. The instances of remedial action being needed based on legal advice.

TRAINING

Group policies, standards and internal controls, together with our strong ethical culture and our focus on safety, underpin our approach to risk management. We are committed to being a responsible business and our leaders are responsible for embedding this into how we work.

Training is provided to all relevant staff around our compliance processes.

ASSESSMENT OF EFFECTIVENESS IN PREVENTING MODERN SLAVERY

We understand that the risks around modern slavery will evolve over time and we will continue our approach to mitigating these in the year ahead.
